

A Nation Divided: If You Want Peace, Prepare for War

By J.J. Johnson - Posted: 12.06.00

Since December 4, 2000, I have become ill witnessing conservatives gloating over the court room dramas in Florida and Washington. I can only think to myself as I watch, "Pride goeth before a fall." America, you are letting your guard down. This battle is far from over - it has only just begun. Have you forgotten who and what we are dealing with? Make no mistake - these people have NO intention of simply walking away. Have they shown you any intention of that so far?

"Gee, I think we've got Al Gore on the ropes."

Only if you think these people have any respect for the courts or the law. You are dealing with criminals, people - Start acting like it!

Remember: These are the people who hold neighborhoods under siege just to kidnap 6 year-olds at gunpoint. There are people who burn churches with 80 people inside and blame the victims. These are people who have the unmitigated GALL to tell us that "America will be an embarrassment to the world if we don't count all the ballots." - W. Clinton - 12.01.00 (But they throw out military ballots). This from a man who conducts himself with such disgust in OUR White House that most decent people can't even write about it.

Sure, the protests are great. We are showing the left that yes, we can GET OFF OUR ASSES and make a little noise. We've got better signs. Our protesters dress better. We can even throw little "chads" when the CNN guy gets on the air. Cute, people - real cute. No, I'm not knocking them - although ripping the mike from the reporters hand and screaming "CLINTON - YOU ARE HISTORY ON JANUARY 20!" would have made my day. But I guess for now, we'll settle for flying chads and "Sore Loserman" signs.

Well, I'm not.

In my opinion, telling jokes, funny photos, and ranting about voter fraud against these people is like blowing hot air. They don't care what we think. They have NEVER bowed to political pressure and exposure alone. And like I said before, if and when we march in Washington, D.C., they can match us man for man in a few short hours.

You all saw proof of that in front of the Supreme Court.

Get serious, people. If there are to be protests - there needs to be people in the streets by the THOUSANDS. I wish people who don't like what's going on would quit patting each other on the back - and head straight into the blazing guns if we have to. C'mon - you're that mad already. What are you afraid of?

Thank God for those protesters, but where are the rest of you? Watching CNN - savoring the moment? Paying taxes to support this regime? Still hoping the other side will just quit and go away quietly?

Shouting mode ON

What will it take to convince people that these criminals are not going away, and are in the process of a scorched-earth policy as we speak??

Shouting mode off

While we've been having fun over dimpled chads, pregnant chads, etc. Here's what we've been missing:

There is a man in Michigan who is in jail because a gun that he USED To OWN was used in a homicide. The Boy Scouts have been thrown off Los Angeles County Property. The Department of Injustice will pay homage to Jessie Jackson, et al, and investigate allegations of Voter Disenfranchisement in Florida. The Cold War is getting Hot in the Great White North - and WWII is heating up in the Middle East. You'll understand that better when the fuel prices start going up again.

And here's the best one: Did you hear about the guy in NY who advocated Clinton using troops at the Florida State House to stop the legislature from doing their jobs? Think he was kidding? You couldn't imagine Clinton pulling off something like that could you?

Well, you haven't heard any major Democrats dismiss the idea yet, have you?

This is what we're missing: This whole mess could end by the First Thief walking up to the rose garden and saying, "Chill, AL - it's over". But he won't. He's doing everything he can to continue this nonsense, including giving Gore and his minions aid and comfort in the White House.

And what of Clinton's cabinet? By now, you would have heard of what new positions his Cabinet members would be taking once Clinton leaves office. Have you heard any word of the future plans outside government - yet? Have you seen transition funds released yet?

No, because all eyes are on Florida.

I urge everyone to continue to stand in the gap. It's better than being caught sleeping with a "Sore Loserman" sign in your hand, and Al Gore taking the oath on January 20 - or worse. We have the enemy backpedaling from knowing we can put bodies in the street, and get in their faces when necessary. But in the coming days, I predict it will take much more than that.

America, be prepared to shut the country down on Dec. 18 or sooner (re: TruckStop2000). Because if our enemy prevails, their first goal will be to shut ALL OF US down - permanently. Wanna take a chance on us being wrong?

If you want Peace, Prepare for War.

Yes, I said WAR, dammit! It's not a four-letter word reserved for the opposition. They are waging one on us - political for now. When we offer a cease-fire even for a moment, they will use it against us. They will not surrender, for they believe we do not have the stomach for a long, drawn out battle. I do. It's only my country at stake. What say ye, American?

There have been many that suggested that our High Commander & Chief (Our Creator) should not be excluded from this historic action, and we should seek His Direction and Guidance. Therefore, unless one is already proclaimed, December 12, 2000 should be a dedicated National Day of Prayer. After that, the gloves are off.

Apparently we haven't screamed loud enough. There's already talk from our own about calls for Unity Government and "reaching out to the other side". To those on the other side: You've seen how your so-called leaders are trying to hijack an election. We know some of you are jumping ship and joining our ranks. We welcome those who have. As for the rest of you: switch parties - else you are considered political enemies.

I submit that phrases such as "Unity Government" and "bi-partisanship" be removed from our vocabulary. And the phrase "Don't Feed the Animals" should be added to our speech. I don't want to hear about "we must put the nation first." Putting the nation first means the political annihilation of the enemies who seek to destroy our Constitution and the Rule of Law. We have seen over the last 8 years that with these people in power - we will lose this nation in short order.

Even when George W. Bush takes office (remember - we do NOT accept Mr. Gore), we must remember that our enemy still exists, and is digging in for the long war ahead. I got personally reminded of that when I saw that new Senator-Elect from New York walking out of the U.S. Senate cloak room for a press conference. At the sight of such abomination, I become even more disgusted, and determined. What say ye, American?

THE REAL ENEMY: LESSONS FROM THE RECENT BATTLES

The benefit we can take from the mess in Florida is that many Americans, like it or not, got a crash course on the Constitution and what it means. I believe this may be the reason for many Democrats switching parties now. But from watching events in Florida, we have also learned how important local elections are to the body politic as a whole. Keep this in mind in the coming years.

We've seen the importance of electing a Governor, who appoints State Supreme Court Judges in some states. We've seen the importance of local election boards; the importance of having the honorable, trustworthy people in place. And we've learned the importance of electing State Legislators. With all the jokes about the intelligence of Floridians, America owes them a big "thank you" for sending enough good people to Tallahassee. They may be our trump card.

Thank you, Florida.

As the one state never to be captured by federal troops during the War of 1861 - 1865, and with Bush securing all the electors from the Confederacy, it's ironic that what those Men in Gray were fighting about is why many of us have been biting our nails over during the past few weeks. The Real Enemy - not slain by Dixie, now threatens us more and more every day.

Federalism.

The Election of the President has become so important because we have given so much power that once belonged to the several states to the Congress, and eventually to the president himself. The Democrats alone are not to blame for this. Politicians from both parties, whose only goal was to stay in power, did so at the expense of state sovereignty. As Colonel Dan said, "There was no winner; only one loser - America". When the Founders of this Great Nation wrote the Constitution - all politics were local. Lincoln made it federal. Clinton/Gore made it Global.

If Globalism is the threat, it cannot be defeated without first defeating Federalism. Al Gore represents the Federalist. We are the anti-federalists. Dr. Michael Hill, President of the League of the South recently wrote how the Florida Legislature should "take the bulls by the horns" and assert its proper authority under the Constitution. Not only do I agree totally with Dr. Hill, I also believe 49 states should follow.

Since the guns went silent at Appomattox, this nation has slowly consolidated its power into 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. That power has been manifested in the last eight years, and we have witnessed the results. Seating Gore means a stranglehold on such power for generations to come; i.e. activist judges, executive orders, no right of self-defensive, redistricting, etc. Having George W. Bush seated does not prevent this, but only gives us a few more moments to take the political steps needed. And Florida is showing us the way.

Next year, States will be seating new legislatures. Many fresh new faces will be in elected office for the first time. This is where our heaviest lobbying must be done in the future. Look at our local candidates closely in the future. Ask them directly, "How far will you go to stopping the federal government from encroaching on the rights of this state?" If they can't give you a straight answer, they don't deserve the job - or your vote. Think about this when electing your next Mayor, Sheriff, Governor, Secretary of State etc.

You see how important it is. You saw in Florida.

But I feel there will be no chance of this unless America can rise up more than it has in the past few weeks, and DEMAND the Constitution be enforced, and the Rule of Law upheld. We must not take our eyes off the target for one moment, or give the opposition any time or room to regroup. Become pro-active. Get active. Be prepared to take action. Not just for George W. Bush or the Republicans - but for the Destiny of this Nation.
